USSVI Creed:

"To perpetuate the memory of our shipmates who gave their lives in the pursuit of their duties while serving their country.

That their dedication, deeds and supreme sacrifice be a constant source of motivation toward greater accomplishments. Pledge loyalty and patriotism to the United States of America and its Constitution.

In addition to perpetuating the memory of departed shipmates, we shall provide a way for all Submariners to gather for the mutual benefit and enjoyment. Our common heritage as Submariners shall be strengthened by camaraderie. We support a strong U.S. Submarine Force.

The organization will engage in various projects and deeds that will bring about the perpetual remembrance of those shipmates who have given the supreme sacrifice.

The organization will also endeavor to educate all third parties it comes in contact with about the services our submarine brothers performed and how their sacrifices made possible the freedom and lifestyle we enjoy today."

A Message from the Base Commander Howard Doyle

commander@perch-base.org

I did not expect to be in this position when Richard Kunze and I discussed my running for vice commander, none of us did as we just do not talk about how we are all on borrowed time. As I have been the base commander I am familiar with the position and what is expected of me and I also realize that for the base to function successfully I will need the assistance and support of a number of shipmates.

In the upcoming election for vice commander all of those nominated have the desire to do a good job along with some experience in the functions of both USSVI and Perch Base. Make your choice wisely and if you want my input just give me a call.

We are approaching the busy parade time of the year and it will definitely be strange to go to a parade without the brown Ford pickup pulling the trailer. Does anyone want to step up and offer to help out? If so just let Don Unser [Event Coordinator] know.

The "NEW" USSVI website is up and running and I recommend that ALL USSVI members go to the web page and give it a run. I have been there and like any new system it will take a "little" getting used to, especially after using the old site.

As before, I am always open to hearing from any member, I may not always agree with your views [especially on politics - remember I am an OLD REDNECK] but I'm always willing to hear you out and even will try and explain my views.

Due to unforeseen circumstances, it became necessary for one of our members to move his brother from one assisted living facility to another in a very short time frame. Because this member [Richard Noreika] is still confined to a wheel chair because of a broken leg, he appealed to Perch Base for help. Six members and myself showed up to help pack and move Dick's brother on Friday [September 29th]. The move was accomplished and hopefully Dick's brother is now getting used to his new surroundings.

BZ to Dan Marks, Don Unser, Jim Denzien, Jim Andrews, Herb Herman, and Sam Mecham. A job well done.

Currently we have 175 members in Perch Base. We are doing well with our current members getting prospective members to join.

This month marks the beginning of our annual Membership Renewal Drive. The renewal drive runs from October 1, 2017 to December 31, 2017. During the month of October, if those members who still pay Perch Base dues get their membership payment in before 10/31/2017, they will be entered in the "Early Bird" drawing. During the Annual Banquet in January 2018, one Early Bird name will be drawn from the bucket and whoever he/she is will not have to pay their Perch Base dues in 2019.

Remember we cannot survive entirely on dues alone so therefore, a generous donation to the Perch Base or the Perch Base Foundation would be tremendously grateful. If you want your donation to be tax deductible, make your check out to the foundation, otherwise make your check out to Perch Base.

If you have any SubVet related input you would like me to promote, simply send a note to me at webmaster@perch-base.org with some details. A recent example included shirts being sold for the USS PHOENIX (SSN 702) Cold War Monument Foundation fundraising drive.

During the summer, we don't have as many events, but check out the additions to our website, www.perch-base.org, since the last newsletter. For example, the home page is always updated to reflect recent happenings and the Sailing Orders page will display upcoming events. Among the additions, pictures have been posted for the Prescott parade, the Perch Base Birthday, a note about Dick Noreika and John Crane's presentation to the American Legion Riders convention in Carefree and the memorial service for the passing of our Base Commander Richard Kunze. To view our photo archives, left-click the "Nav Menu" button in the upper left corner of any Perch Base webpage and then the upper button titled, "Special Section – Perch Base Event Photos." You will see the satisfaction by our members who attended and I encourage more members to come out for these events.

During the past 90 days, our Perch Base website page views were about 3,439. About 54% of that traffic is from within Arizona, so I will assume that is from YOU.

Also, don't forget to visit our Facebook page, which can only be accessed by current members. If you want me to add you to our "Perch Base, United States Submarine Veterans Inc." Facebook group, you can either go to the group page and request to join the group, or you can send me an email and I will send back an invite.

Treasurer

David Heighway

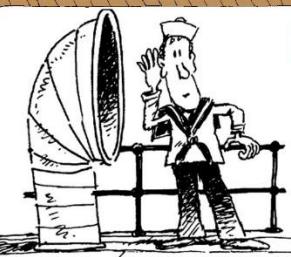

treasurer@perch-base.org

We are entering the final quarter of 2017 and Perch Base financially is in good shape. The 2018 Membership Renewal Drive is soon to get underway. We should all be aware that the majority of our yearly budget is funded through the dues and donations provided during this effort. Our other main sources of income are the monthly 50/50 raffle and the funds generated through the Base Store.

USSVI is a 501(c)19 organization. Our membership ratio in 2016/2017 is too low to qualify the organization as tax deductible, although this may change in the future. If you donate to Perch Base during the upcoming 2018 Membership Renewal Drive, the funds will help the base operate throughout 2018, but will not provide you with a tax deduction. Your donation to the Base will help us to fund the expenses we incur in order to meet the tenets of our Creed. Funds for float expenses (storage, repair, trailer license, etc.), Base picnic, MidWatch postage, webpage, and scholarships come from your donations.

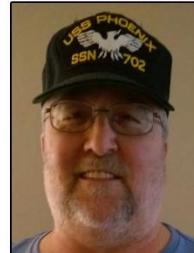

Donations have always helped to keep our Annual Base Dues very low. Please consider donating to Perch Base in order to maintain this status.

Communications Officer

Chuck Luna

Under the heading of FYI, Effective this Veterans Day, November 11, online military exchange shopping privileges will be extended to all honorably discharged veterans. You will need to register at <https://www.vetverify.org>

Plus, our own Lou Reynolds is interviewed in the World War II magazine released this past Wednesday, October 4, 2017 about the Kimono he got from the Japanese submarine I 14 at the close of the war. Pick up a copy, should be a good read.

Secretary

BASE MEETING MINTUES

Marcia Unser

secretary@perch-base.org

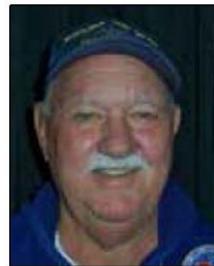

Every month, before our Perch Base Board Meeting, we meet at a restaurant, in the area, for dinner. This time, we met at Raul and Teresa's Restaurant in Avondale, which has their All You Can Eat Shredded Beef Tacos/Cheese Enchiladas on Wednesdays...another reason the board likes this place. As dinner was ending and we were preparing to pay for our meals (there were eight of us), the waitress came over and explained to us that a patron had paid for everyone's meal, to thank us for our service. We asked who this person was, but the waitress said they had already left. It's always nice when this happens to the men who served their country so proudly.

Storekeeper

Herb Herman

storekeeper@perch-base.org

Everybody is aware that we are stocking less than the past. However, we can order just about anything desired. In stock are Holland Club, officer, and Enlisted men's caps ($20). We also stock Patches, Qual Dolphins, a few polo shirts, some Decals and other miscellaneous items like license plates. Most items are $8 bucks or less.

The 2018 Calendars are coming soon and I can take orders now. You can order at the base meeting, by email storekeeper@perch-base.org or herbherman@gmail.com. Price $10.00 and you can pay by check, cash, or Dave Highway at meetings with a credit card. Please support Perch Base.

FROM THE DISTRICT COMMANDER

This past August 14th, we lost one of the most stalwart members of our base, Richard Kunze. He was the epitome of the term “Silent Service”. He was always available for whatever was needed: being a base officer including his final position as Base Commander; he participated in all base activities, attended conventions and was a friend to all. He was everything you wanted in a good shipmate. We will miss him.

Please plan on honoring Richard by attending the final service at the National Memorial Cemetery on September 27th at 1000.

“Sailor, rest your oar.”

The 242nd celebration of the Navy birthday will take place in the Phoenix area on Saturday, October 14 at the Hilton Phoenix/Mesa, 1011 W. Holmes Avenue, Mesa, AZ 85210. Register at www.phoenixnavyball.com or contact Capt. Carol Culbertson, USN Ret. At (602) 799-9480. Dinner rates are $65.00 per person.

I need an alternate representative for the Unified Arizona Veterans. The group meets on the first Saturday of each month at 1000 at the State Veterans Home. If you are interested in serving in this position, please contact me at jdenzien@cox.net or at (623) 547-7945. There really is not much work!

Last, but not least, thank you for reelecting me as Western District One Commander. It is an honor to represent you and the other USSVI members in Arizona and New Mexico.

U.S. Undersea Warfare News

Report: Millions Needed For Repair Of Shipyards

Mark Hayward, New Hampshire Union Leader, September 14

The Navy's four public shipyards, including the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, are in poor physical shape and will need billions to address aging facilities and upgrade outdated equipment, according to a sharply critical report issued this week by the U.S. Government Accountability Office.

The GAO produced a four-minute video to showcase the problem. Images from all four shipyards tell a story of backlogged capital investment projects that harm Navy readiness. The backlog of restoration and maintenance projects has grown 41 percent over five years, the GAO said.

The Navy estimates the $4.86 billion backlog won't be cleared for another 19 years, the GAO said.

"Completing ship and submarine maintenance on time is essential to the Navy's readiness. Maintenance availabilities that last longer than planned reduce the number of days ships are available for training or operations," the GAO said.

All at least a century old, the shipyards are threatened by rising sea levels, the GAO reports. And their age requires the Navy to comply with expensive historic preservation requirements.

Congressman Carol Shea Porter, D-N.H., said the report raises valid and long-standing concerns, but it does not reflect on the men and women who work at the shipyard. She said the Navy must develop a capital investment plan and provide regular updates to Congress.

"For its part, Congress must provide reliable support and end ongoing budgetary uncertainty and sequestration caps," said Shea Porter, a member of the House Armed Services Committee.

The GAO released the report Tuesday.

It highlights an issue with drydocks, which allow workers to repair and build vessels outside the water.

Drydocks in several of the shipyards cannot support existing submarines, including the Los Angeles-class attack submarine.

At Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, Drydock 1 requires 40-year-old buoyancy assistance equipment to provide additional lift to reduce the submarine's waterborne draft to move it into the drydock. Without the buoyancy assistance, the Navy's current submarines could not use Drydock 1.

The PNSY will lose its capability to support submarine workloads if additional investments are not made by 2021, the report said. And the equipment at Portsmouth will not be sufficient to work on newer classes of submarines, the report said.

The other shipyards are the Norfolk Naval Shipyard in Portsmouth, Va., the nation's oldest and second-largest in terms of annual funding ($1.5 billion); the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard in Bremerton, Wash. ($1.95 million); and Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard ($838 million).

The Old Submariner

I sometimes don't know where I'm going, but Oh, all the places I've been.
Wrapped up in a hull made of steel, with a crew of fine sailors locked in.

The missions are lonely and silent, the dangers untold with no yield,
But we still climb down the steel ladders, the hatches above us are sealed....

The sunlight's a far distant memory, fresh air just a dream from the past
The world outside comes in short little bursts, from a buoy or a wire or a mast.

Between drilling and watches and work, there's no place to be secluded
Surrounded by lights and companions, and pressure is always included.

In sub school they taught you the stories, of boats that exceeded design,
And others that found ancient mountains, nearly ending before it was time.

Fires and flooding and things that exploded, in a hull that is closed on both ends,
Add to pressure from not really seeing, what's ahead or around the next bend.

You can hide from the storms in deep places, using thermals and currents as masks.
But if mission requires more exposure, the crew does what the Captain asks.

Sliding silently through the dark ocean, sometimes you forget where you are,
Until you remember there's no moon, not even a glimmering star.

They all wait above you in silence, for the boat to once more breach the waves
In a rush of wild water and motion, escaping a watery grave.

Unless you're an old submariner, it's hard to know what this means
As age dims my mind and my body, I'm back riding old submarines.

I sometimes might forget what I'm thinking now, but Oh, all the places I've been!
